RSVP Institute's Newest After School Manners Course!

The RSVP Institute will be bringing a special after school course to Carden Arbor View, starting Monday, January 9th. The 6 one hour classes, will feature beginner and advanced techniques, along with new fun foods and games to help students practice what they have learned. RSVP not only spotlights the etiquette and history of multi-generational & multi-cultural dining, but the vital social skills that teach why & how to show respect to others at school, home, & to oneself.

The fee is *$60.00 per student for the 6 classes.

New-Family discount! Any siblings or cousins joining a member of a family registered at full price, pay only $35.00 each!*

Please register by Jan. 6th if your student wishes to participate.

- Live a respectful & polite life, at home, school & with friends.
- Beginner & Advanced dining etiquette with newly added foods.
- Handling uncomfortable & unfamiliar social situations with grace.
- Refresher lessons on making introductions & writing notes of thanks.
- Table manners and why they make sense.
- Multi-cultural manners for our ever changing world.
